

Russian Envoy's Wife Saved From Red Muscle Men

By ROBERT FREEDEN

DARWIN, Australia (AP)—Blonde Mrs. Vladimir Petrov joined her ex-diplomat husband as a refugee from Soviet communism today after Australian police jerked loaded pistols away from two Russian escorts ushering her in tears back to Moscow.

The 35-year-old woman's last-minute switch to the free world followed a fantastic tug of war in which Australian police wrestled wildly to disarm two of her Russian guards as her Europe-bound plane stopped here on the first leg of its flight from Sydney. The gun-toting Russians had tried to muscle local officials out of talking to Mrs. Petrov.

Dragged Aboard Plane

Eight hours earlier some 1,500 anti-Communists at Sydney fought with police in a vain effort to prevent her from being dragged aboard the BOAC Constellation by the Soviet Embassy second secretary and the two armed Russian diplomatic couriers convoying her home.

White Russians in the crowd said they heard her screaming: "I do not want to go. Save me."

Mrs. Petrov was said by Australian authorities to have been heading back to Russia in the belief her husband had been kidnapped and killed. She had told reporters at an embassy news conference last week she thought he had been kidnapped.

Protests From Moscow

She made her final decision to stay after a prearranged telephone call from Darwin for her first talk with her 45-year-old husband since he fled early this month with stacks of Red espionage data from his post as third secretary and MVC (secret police) chief at the Soviet Embassy in Canberra.

The riotous episodes surrounding

Mrs. Petrov's flight promised serious diplomatic repercussions between Australia and the Kremlin. Soviet Ambassador Nicolai Generalov immediately lodged a formal protest at the Australian Foreign Ministry, charging "armed assault against diplomatic couriers and

Housing Chief Faces Rigorous Questioning About Loan Swindles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today government housing official "guaranteed 24 million dollars in loans" on Glen Oaks Village in Queens County, New York, although the apartment project cost only 20 million.

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's housing chief and the head of the Internal Revenue Service were summoned to Capitol Hill today as a congressional investigation of the multimillion-dollar housing scandal went ahead on two fronts.

Albert M. Cole, housing and home finance administrator, faced rigorous questioning by Senate Banking Committee members on various phases of the situation, including the ousting of Guy T. O. Holliday as federal housing commissioner.

Collusion Indicated
Cole, who has over-all supervision over the Federal Housing Administration, also was to be asked about his statements that there may have been collusion between FHA officials and builders of apartment projects who allegedly pocketed as much as half a billion dollars out of oversized government-backed construction loans.

Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews of the Internal Revenue Service was to be the first witness at a parallel hearing by the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va). Andrews has said his files contain 1,147 cases of builders who said sought to pay the 26 percent capital gains tax rather than the 52 percent corporation income tax on excess profits.

Householders Fleeced

From his Augusta, Ga., vacation headquarters, President Eisenhower Monday ordered that the revenue service open its income tax files so the Banking Committee can look into the returns of these builders for the 1942-1953 period.

The apartment construction program, which died in 1950, accounts for only part of the questionable housing activities. Also under scrutiny are complaints that FHA did little or nothing while householders all over the nation were swindled by fast-talking home repair salesmen who induced them to get government-backed improvement loans and then failed to perform work promised.

Two Admit $10,000 Highway Land Fraud

MUSKEGON (AP) — G. Palmer Seeley of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Lois Porter Moon Ley of Muskegon today pleaded guilty in Circuit Court of conspiracy to defraud property owners and the state of $10,000 and upwards in highway land deals.

Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox continued bonds of $10,000 but delayed sentence indefinitely pending an investigation.

The original charge against Seeley, 53, ousted chief right-of-way buyer in the Grand Rapids district, and Mrs. Ley, 47, a real estate dealer and house mover, involved $10,000.

That was reduced today to $10,000 and upwards in a compromise agreement between defense attorneys and Assistant State Attorney General Perry A. Maynard.

Maynard said the state's position was not changed, however. He said the state still claimed the amount involved was $90,000.

Public Schools To Be Promoted

READING, England (AP) — The death toll in the Dellwood Maternity Hospital fire here reached 13 newly born babies today as doctors fought desperately to save the lives of the two surviving infants.

The condition of the survivors was stated to be "still very grave."

Fire swept the nursery ward of the hospital Sunday. Smoke and fumes overcame the babies and some died a few hours after nurse Freda Holland, 41, carried them out.

Brothers Lose Their $40,000 Farm, Must Pay $3,750 Besides

LAPEER (AP) — A sheriff's auction of livestock and equipment on the Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt farm was scheduled for today.

The sale is to satisfy a $3,750 judgement obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney, for the Ziegenhardts occupying of the farm after she purchased it several years ago for $13,000 at an auction.

Western Powers Ready For Talks On Disarmament

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Spurred by the menace of the hydrogen bomb, the Western Powers prepared today for new disarmament talks without knowing whether the Soviet Union will take part.

The 12-national U. N. Disarmament Commission set up a subcommittee Monday to start the talks, in private, here Friday.

It adopted 9-1 a British proposal naming Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United States to the subgroup.

It rejected 10-1 a Soviet bid to add Communist China, Czechoslovakia and India.

Only Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky voted against the proposal and for his own amendment.

Lebanon and Nationalist China abstained on the former, Lebanon on the latter.

Vishinsky had warned before-hand that adoption of the British plan, which he called one-sided, would "create difficulties for the Soviet Union as regards its participation in the work of the subcommittee."

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the United States called this "a thinly veiled threat to walk out. . . . a thinly veiled threat to torpedo the peace."

New York Faces Water Shortage

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner has declared a water emergency, warning that New Yorkers face the most serious water shortage since the city's modern reservoir system was built 30 years ago.

The mayor issued a series of executive orders Monday to stop waste of water. He banned use of hoses to wash sidewalks or sprinkle lawns and gardens, and ordered city departments to take conservation steps.

The shortage, Wagner said, is more serious than in 1949 and 1950, the most recent years in which New York was caught without adequate water supplies.

"A deficiency of rainfall since June 1953," has lowered reservoirs to 72.1 per cent of capacity. Wagner said. Even in the water shortage year of 1949 reservoirs were full and overflowing in the spring, he added.

Blaze Destroys U.M. Laboratory

YPSILANTI (AP) — A University of Michigan laboratory and its special equipment were destroyed Monday night by fire at the University's air research center at Willow Run Airport.

Officials said the area was restricted for security purposes. Prof. Frank Schwartz, a research official, said there was "the possibility of sabotage," but he doubted it.

About 100 firemen and 15 pieces of fire-fighting equipment answered the call from nine communities nearby.

Officials refused to comment on the work of the laboratory but it was reported to concern rocket research.

Prof. Schwartz said that about 50 pieces of equipment, costing "several hundred thousand dollars" were destroyed. Included were a $40,000 dynamometer, a small wind tunnel, and a T41 tank used for testing.

The fire threatened three other buildings and two 5,000 gallon gasoline tanks before firemen brought it under control an hour after it started.

Dr. Taylor said goals of the committee would be to acquaint the public with facts on curriculum, finance, school building and similar problems, emphasize the positive values in teaching and attract young people to the profession, and to help people understand that "Education itself must change with economic and social conditions that affect the homes and lives of children."

The committee includes:

Louis J. Berman, Whitehall, president of the MPA; George Bishop, Marquette, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau; Ernest Britton, Midland, president-elect of the Assn. of School Administrators;

L. P. Cushman, Ososko school superintendent; Foss Elwynn, Sault Ste. Marie school superintendent; Mrs. John J. Kistler, Grand Haven, president, Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs; Harold C. Gov. Williams Announces He'll Seek Fourth Term

Jailed Jersey Solon Runs As McCarthy Man

By CHARLES CAPALDO

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, jailed during his last House term, today tries to win Republican nomination to his old seat in Congress on a pro-McCarthy platform.

Thomas' bid for a political comeback in the wake of a prison term for pocketing congressional payroll kickbacks in 1949 features an otherwise tame New Jersey primary election.

The 59-year-old politician-publisher is running against incumbent Rep. William B. Widnall (R-NJ) in the rural 7th District.

Widnall has the support of party organizations.

The Thomas-Widnall race and statewide referenda on bingo and raffles have generated the lion's share of pre-primary fireworks.

Polls were opened at 6 a.m. CST. They will close at 7 p.m.

Only two other incumbents besides Widnall—Representatives Alfred D. Slemanski, Democrat, and Frank C. Osmers Jr., Republican—face primary opposition, and that from figures new to the national scene. In all, there are eight party contests for the state's 14 House seats.

The major party nominees for the Senate are unopposed.

Thomas, who said he "never once" met Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), has campaigned on a pledge of "1,000 per cent" support of the Wisconsin Republican and his Communist-hunting methods.

Corporal Called Stool Pigeon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former prisoner of war swore today that his plans to escape from a Korean prison camp were tipped off to his jailers by Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson.

The witness, Cpl. Thomas A. Carrick of Blacksburg, Va., said at the opening of the second day of Dickenson's court martial that he overheard the defendant inform him on Carrick said he listened through a paper door at the prison camp.

This testimony sent opposing counsel into a vigorous debate on the admissibility of Carrick's testimony. Guy Emery, defense attorney, drew from Carrick on cross examination that he had also overheard Dickenson confess that he, himself, was planning an escape.

Asked why he had not mentioned this fact, the witness said: "I try to forget things, sir."

Dickenson, a 23-year-old soldier from Cracker's Neck, Va., is charged with collaborating with the enemy while a POW and with supplying his captors information that led to mistreatment of fellow prisoners. He pleaded innocent Monday.

Dickenson first refused repatriation when the Korean armistice was signed, but later changed his mind and returned to this country.

Prof. Schwartz said that about 50 pieces of equipment, costing "several hundred thousand dollars" were destroyed. Included were a $40,000 dynamometer, a small wind tunnel, and a T41 tank used for testing.

The fire threatened three other buildings and two 5,000 gallon gasoline tanks before firemen brought it under control an hour after it started.

Sending Of American Troops To Indochina Hot Congress Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two senators said today after a meeting with Secretary of State Dulles that no decision to dispatch American fighting forces to Indochina is being considered.

Both senators are Republicans, Ferguson of Michigan and Bridges of New Hampshire.

Action Not Warranted

Ferguson, who left the meeting early to keep another appointment, added:

"I don't think it (the decision) is hopeless." He said any move to send American forces to Indochina "was not in the wind."

But he added that no one could tell what the future would hold.

Bridges said in a speech Monday night that "we have made our decision" to hold Indochina.

Sen. Cooper (R-Ky.) said today he is prepared to go all the way with the Eisenhower administration to keep Indochina out of Communist hands.

Unlikely, Says Dulles

Dulles said Monday after a conference with President Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., that it is "unlikely" any American troops will be sent to the Southeast-Asia battleground. But he declined to answer an "if" question: Would he favor sending U. S. troops as a last resort if the French should pull out of Indochina?

Cooper, a former delegate to the United Nations, said he believes that any decision on troop use need not be made immediately.

Instead, he said, the United States should press the French to permit American training of native troops to fight against the

Michigan Party Wizard, 44, Will Try For Record

By JACK L. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced today he will seek an unprecedented fourth term as chief executive of Michigan.

Grass Fire Hits City Property; Loss Is $4,500

George Stuart, superintendent of the Peninsula Division of the Chicago and North Western Railroad, told the Escanaba Lions Club last night that the railroad expects to handle approximately 4 1/2 million tons of iron ore this season, utilizing only the No. 6 dock. It will be the largest tonnage ever handled in a single dock in the company's ore shipping history at Escanaba, Stuart said.

Grass fires believed to have been started by children blackened a large area from the Escanaba airport to Lake Shore Drive yesterday afternoon and caused a loss in city property estimated at $4,500.

The flames swept rapidly through the dry grass and into city property in outdoor storage a short distance west of the Escanaba Athletic Field. The fire also threatened some homes and other buildings in the area.

Damaged or destroyed by the flames were a skating shack, a street sander, hockey boards, and timbers. Saved from the fire were other buildings used as warming houses at skating rinks in winter-time, piles of lumber, and utility poles. None of the property is insured.

Called For Help
Firemen were hampered in bringing the fire under control because of the distance from the nearest water hydrant, and the limited amount of water that could be poured on the fire from booster tanks on the fire trucks.

For a time it was feared the grass fire might run out of control and calls went out to the Conservation Department headquarters, State Police, and the sheriff's office for assistance. Firemen from both city stations fought the blaze that whipped along before strong northwest winds.

A telephone pole was burned off along S. 23rd St., advertising signs were destroyed, and city utility poles were threatened.

Police are investigating the cause of the fire, which first started in a marshlands area near the airport and blackened the ground east to S. 23rd St.; then started again east of the highway and swept through to Lake Shore Drive.

Firemen reported they saw four boys in the area, who ran when the fire trucks arrived.

Blacken 150 Acres
Firemen answered eight calls yesterday, of which six were grass fires. The others were to the E. Palmer residence, 1311 3rd Ave. S., where a gas stove "flared" but caused no damage, and to the E. Gauthier residence, 1614 N. 16th St., where sparks from a grass fire started an attic fire.

Grass and brushlands are now tinder dry and fire conditions are dangerously high. Homes and other buildings in grassy areas are endangered if fire should start.

In the Conservation Department's Escanaba district, comprising Delta, Marquette and the west half of Alger county, about 150 acres have been blackened by fires so far this spring, it was reported by John Chriske, district supervisor.

Permits to burn are being issued for use only during the evening hours when humidity is higher. Chriske requested cooperation of the public in being careful with fire in the woods and plains until the hazard is reduced.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone was president of the National Geographic Society from 1898 through 1903.

Single Dock To Handle 4 1/2 Million Tons Of Ore Here This Season

6,163,352 tons of iron ore from Escanaba, using both the No. 6 dock and half of No. 5 dock. Of this total, 4,063,822 tons moved through the No. 6 dock, Stuart said.

The record tonnage handled in Escanaba was 7,438,853 tons in 1916 but Stuart pointed out that this was moved across six ore docks. The highest tonnage with only two docks was 6,544,258 tons in 1951. The following year, 1952, a total of 5,504,507 tons were moved in a six-month season, the steel strike that spring delaying the movement of ore for two months.

Increased Efficiency

The railroad official told the Lions that increased efficiency in the movement of ore is made possible through the elimination of ore storage at the Escanaba yards and because of larger cargoes.

"The small ore carriers are headed for the scrap heap," Stuart said. He said that ore freighters of less than 9,000 ton capacity are uneconomical in comparison with new ships that carry loads as great as 20,000 tons. New ships for carrying ore from the Labrador fields are designed to carry 30,000 tons, Stuart reported.

The railroad official explained that the No. 5 dock is not being used this season because the cost of rehabilitating that dock is excessive and because the railroad believes that it can adequately handle the volume required of it this year through dock No. 6.

New Dock Eventually

Stuart predicted that ultimately the railroad will have to construct a new concrete and steel dock at Escanaba. He estimated the cost of this project at about $17 millions.

Normal Loadings — Effective at 8 a. m. Wednesday, April 21, normal loadings will be allowed on all state trunk lines in the Lower Peninsula, the Michigan State Highway Department announced today.

Marriage Licenses — Two couples applied for marriage licenses at the county clerk's office yesterday afternoon. They are Loren Mead, Milwaukee, Wis. and Joyce Lundin, Ensign; David O. Doremie and Patricia Hoskins, both of Gladstone.

No Dumping Ground — Escanaba police today directed attention to the fact that dumping of rubbish and garbage is prohibited north of the ore docks between Sheridan Road and US-2-41. Dumping there is a violation of the law, police warned.

Present Film Program — Escanaba Rotarians at their Monday noon meeting at the Delta Hotel heard Ted Astad speak briefly on the subject of pharmacy techniques, and viewed a motion picture depicting the production of pharmaceuticals.

Fined For Spearing — Frank Croasdell of McFarland yesterday pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Rangue's court to a charge of attempting to take northern pike with a spear when the season on pike is closed and was ordered to pay a fine of $15 and costs of $9.60. He was arrested Saturday night by conservation officers at a creek in north Gladstone.

BARK RIVER — The Sunnyside PTA will meet at the school Wednesday, April 21, at 1:30 p. m. Installation of the newly elected officers will be made by the past president, Mrs. Elmer Johnson.

Sunnyside pupils will present a musical program, and everyone is asked to bring some household article to the meeting for the Stanley Bugay family, whose home burned down last week.

Trappers are required under law to bring in their pelts and have them sealed by the Conservation Department. To date about 250 beaver have been sealed.

Because of lower fur prices fewer beaver have been taken in this area during the recent open season than last year, it was reported from Escanaba district headquarters of the Conservation Department.

Welfare Costs Drop Slightly

Welfare expenditures in Delta County in February 1954 dropped $534.31 from expenditures for the same month in 1953, according to figures released by A. M. Gilbert, welfare director.

Expenditures from federal, state and county funds this February totaled $72,419.22. A year ago in February 1953, they were $72,953.53.

An accompanying table, released by Gilbert, gives a breakdown of February 1954.

Old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to blind and aid to the disabled are financed by state and federal funds.

Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and administrative are financed wholly by county funds.

Medical supplement cases are old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and aid to the disabled that are given medical care only for acute illness. No provision is made in federal and state grants for this item.

The table follows:

Category	Cases	Amt.
Old age assistance	760	$37,385.00
Aid to dependent children	186	17,813.50

David Anderson, 4, Nahma, Killed In Auto Crash

MANITOWOC — David Anderson, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Anderson, Nahma, was killed and other members of the Anderson family were injured in an automobile accident at the intersection of highway 32 and highway 10, 18 miles west of Manitowoc Monday noon.

The Andersons were returning from Milwaukee where they spent Easter Sunday. The Anderson car, driven by Mr. Anderson, 35, was headed north on highway 32 and a semi-trailer driven by Arnold Prinl, 35, of Mishicot (Manitowoc County) was traveling west on highway 10.

County traffic officers who investigated the accident reported that the Anderson car went through an arterial and skidded into the trailer section of the truck. The car became wedged under the trailer and was totally destroyed. The accident occurred at 11:59 a.m.

Fractured Skull

The five members of the Anderson family were removed to Holy Family hospital in Manitowoc where David died at four p.m.

Another son, Brian, 2, sustained a fractured skull and is in critical condition. Surgery was performed this morning to relieve pressure on the brain and physicians reported that he was responding satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson also were reported to be seriously injured but they are expected to recover. The youngest child, Kent, 1, was less seriously injured.

Mr. Anderson, who is the basketball coach and principal at Nahma High School, is reported to have sustained severe chest injuries and his wife, Dorine, 31, sustained injuries to the head and arms.

Funeral Thursday

Born Dec. 6, 1949 at Escanaba, David lived in Nahma all his life. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson; two brothers, Brian and Kent; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson of Milwaukee, and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Anderson of Munising.

The body will be taken to the Allo Funeral Home where friends may begin calling Wednesday evening.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m., Thursday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Escanaba with the Very Rev. Joseph Dickson officiating. Burial will be made in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Mrs. Christie Has Easter Greetings Call From Moscow

Mrs. James Christie, 216 First Ave. S., talked to her granddaughter, Kathleen Kasiche, in Moscow, Russia on Easter Sunday morning.

Mrs. Christie received a cable Saturday informing her that Miss Kasiche would telephone Sunday morning at 8. The call actually came through shortly before 10 and Mrs. Christie reported the line was exceptionally clear.

"It was just like talking to her in the same room," Mrs. Christie reported.

Miss Kasiche is a former Escanaba High School student and she sent Easter greetings to her friends in this area. Her father, Richard Kasiche, is the chief of the Associated Press bureau in Moscow.

Ford River Lions Hold Smelt Bee

A smelt dipping bee by the Ford River Lions was held on the banks of the Ford River last evening. They began smelting at 11 p.m. when the run started, and 4,500 pounds were caught by the Lions.

Ray LeDuc and his committee were in charge of the dipping. All proceeds from this project are to go toward the Ford River Community building fund.

Charge Motorist As Intoxicated Driver

Obituary

JOSEPH POLOVINA

MANISTIQUE — Calvin Bennett, 27, of Donaldson, Mich., was arrested by State Police of the Manistique Post at 5 p.m. Monday, for drunk driving. His companion, Lester Bennett, 30, also of Donaldson, was taken into custody for disorderly conduct.

The arrests were made after the car driven by Calvin struck a telephone pole on Maple Street near the high school stadium. The men were lodged in the county jail and will be arraigned today.

Both were released from jail in Sault Ste. Marie earlier Monday after being arrested for the same offense.

Youth Jailed For Supplying Beer To Three Juveniles

Arthur Hassell Jr., 22, of Manistique, Monday afternoon pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranquette's court to a disorderly charge in connection with supplying beer to three Rapid River teenagers and was sentenced to jail for 30 days when he failed to pay a fine of $50 and costs of $5.

State Police of Gladstone who made the arrest said Hassell had furnished beer to two 16-year-old girls and 15-year-old boy he had picked up at Rapid River at 1:30 a.m. yesterday.

The girls did not return to their homes until 10 a.m. yesterday and relatives took one of the girls to the State Police and lodged a complaint. State Police arrested Hassell at his home.

Carrier Boys Visit Chicago

MENOMINEE — Through its financial consultants, Glore, Forgan & Company, Chicago investment house, the City of Menominee has advertised for bids on $766,142 in bonds with which the city-wide sewer improvement program will be financed. Bids will be opened at 3 p.m. on May 5 at a City Council meeting. The bonds to be sold include $160,000 in general obligation bonds which voters approved last year; $330,000 in revenue bonds which will be liquidated through increased water rates already in effect, and $276,142 in highway fund bonds which will be paid off with part of the city's share of state gasoline and automobile weight taxes.

The boys are William Norton Jr., Norman Wood, Roger Dybevik and Wm. McGlynn, all of Menominee; William McGlynn, all of Manistique, and David Pinozek, Escanaba.

They left last night and arrived in Chicago this morning. Tonight they will stay at the Conrad Hilton Hotel and will leave Chicago late Wednesday night.

In their two-day visit in Chicago they will visit the Museum of Science and Industry, attend Don McNeil's Breakfast Club broadcast at the Sherman Hotel, see the Cubs-Braves baseball game, go swimming at the Chicago Athletic Club, see a cinema movie and attend a wrestling show at the Rainbow Arena.

Dozens of other carriers won a variety of other prizes in the contest, including cameras, flashlights, air rifles, swimming equipment, jackknives, bicycle equipment, etc.

Bark River Band Sponsors Dance

A dance is being presented by the members of the Bark River-Harris High School band Friday, April 23, at the Bark River Community Hall. Music will be furnished by Jerry Gunville's Orchestra, and dancing will be from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. Katherine DeLoughary is general chairman of the dance. All proceeds from the dance will be used to pay for band uniforms.

This dance is the second in a series of events to raise money for the band. Band members, with the co-operation of their parents and a Bark River store, held a bake sale March 27.

Last in the series of events will be the third annual spring Concert at the Bark River Community Hall to be presented May 20 under the direction of Chet Marrier. The Junior band, under the direction of Mr. Marrier, and the Glee Clubs, under the direction of Charlotte LeClerc, will also participate in the concert.

Probe Answers Lie Deep In Oppenheimer's Motives

WHILE Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is being gauged as a security risk by a special panel we perhaps ought to get clear on what sort of man it is whose life is now for the third or fourth time, under the investigating microscope.

It has been emphasized that he was for long years totally uneducated politically. But we should look also at the converse of that fact. He was and is one of this country's most brilliant scientists.

Some of his colleagues, the top physicists in America, say flatly that Oppenheimer more than any other single man is responsible for the substantial lead this country enjoys over Russia in atomic weapons.

Men like Dr. Hans Bethe, president of the American Physical Society, declare that without Oppenheimer's genius we might never have had an atomic bomb at all.

Therefore, if we do really possess any national security because of our stockpile of nuclear weapons, we may very well owe it to Oppenheimer more than to anyone else. What curious irony there is, then, in the fact that this man should be under suspicion as a possible peril to our security.

He is not, of course charged with spying, with passing information to the Soviet Union. He is not, indeed, charged with any clear and unmistakable acts of subversion.

The most severe accusation lodged against him for the period of the late Thirties and early Forties, when he was admittedly consorting with Communists, is that

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

A Chicago reader writes: "Tonight my favorite newscaster, John Daly, was telling us about the government auction of used postage stamps. He used the word 'philatelist'—mentioning in an aside that it means 'stamp collector.' To my surprise, though, he twice pronounced it fin-LAY-uh-list. My handy home Webster says I am uhlist. My handy home Webster says I am right, and Mr. Daly is wrong. Is this possible?"

Granted, it's hard to believe but this seems to be one instance where the urbane and usually linguistically impeccable Mr. Daly is in error, for no American dictionary lists fin-LAY-tuh-list even as an optional second pronunciation.

Knowing that Mr. Daly was born in South Africa, it occurred to me that he might be reflecting British pronunciation. But the New English (Oxford) Dictionary is as uncompromising as our American lexicons in entering only one pronunciation—fin-LAT-uh-list.

Just in passing, though, I should like to commend Mr. Daly on the high degree of literateness which characterizes all his appearances and which makes his news broadcasts a daily "must" in our house, too.

From an elderly reader in San Bernardino, Calif., comes plaintive query: "I've making a conscientious effort to learn something about jazz music. My grandchildren spend so much time listening to records and the radio that I feel there must be a good deal of merit to it, even if it does jangle my nerves. I find, though, that there are many words used in magazine articles which aren't in my dictionary. 'Bash' and 'combo' are two I'd like you to explain."

With pleasure, madam. A "bash" originally meant a jazz session—a gathering of musicians who played together for their own enjoyment. Nowadays it is loosely used to mean any high-spirited social gathering. "Combo" is a shortened form of "combination" and means a musical unit of not more than six players. Often a "combo" consists of three instrumentalists who by "doubling" playing more than one instrument (piece) manage the variety of tone colors of a larger dance band.

Some scientists say there is no such thing as pure air. They should sit through a few sessions of Congress.

The Doctor Says...

Corns And Warts Are Equally A Nuisance

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

People frequently get warts and corns mixed up, since they look a little bit alike, but actually they are quite different. Corns are caused by injury to skin usually over a long period of time. Warts are essentially infections, believed caused by viruses. Because of this similarity in appearance, however, they can be conveniently considered at the same time.

The skin has an outer layer which is quite tough, as everyone knows. When this outer part of the skin is pressed upon or irritated so that it continues to grow and becomes horny, these growths are called corns.

TWO VARIETIES are recognized; hard corns which are thick and develop on the prominent part of the foot where a shoe presses upon it, and soft corns which generally appear on a toe which has been rubbing against another one.

Corns are often particularly painful about the time of a storm. Some people claim, probably correctly, that they can fortell the appearance of bad weather by the fact that their corns start hurting.

Most corns disappear when the cause is removed. In other words, if a person with corns on the feet is bedridden for some time they will go away. After badly fitting shoes are replaced, corns will also of-

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Inside facts as to how the Atomic Energy Commission happened to suspend the man who built the atom bomb go back to a congressional hearing when Dr. Oppenheimer tangled publicly with Adm. Lewis Strauss.

Senator McCarthy at that time was not involved. He decided to jump aboard the Oppenheimer story only after the AEC investigation was well under way, and because he recognized it as a good way to get back in the headlines.

But as a result of McCarthy's jump, Admiral Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, was scared to death last week over where the probe he started was heading.

To friends he confided that he was sorry he ever brought the Oppenheimer matter up. Belatedly he realizes that he's stirred up a national hornets' nest, played right into McCarthy's hands, and alienated some of the nation's top scientists—men essential to his success as AEC Chairman.

It was about one year ago—May, 1953—that McCarthy first thought of "going after Oppie," but rejected the idea on the advice of friends. They advised that Dr. Oppenheimer's record was well known, had been thoroughly probed by the House Un-American Activities Committee when Vice President Nixon and Senator Mundt of South Dakota were members, and any investigation now would backfire. So one year ago McCarthy decided against it, never dreaming that Admiral Strauss and the White House would play right into his hands.

STRAUSS RETALIATED
Strauss meanwhile became chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission on July 2. Almost the first thing he did, five days afterward, was order secret documents withdrawn from Oppenheimer and later he initiated a full-scale probe.

Those who have worked in the AEC say Strauss had developed a violent prejudice against Oppenheimer ever since Strauss, a Republican, had sided with Senator Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican, in his charges that AEC Chairman David Lilienthal had been guilty of "incredible mismanagement."

Strauss, then an AEC Commissioner, testified generally against Lilienthal that the AEC program of exporting radioactive isotopes to be used in medical research for cancer, was dangerous because the isotopes might be used by a European power to produce weapons.

Strauss was followed on the witness stand by Oppenheimer who completely demolished the admiral's argument and made him look like a fool. The admiral is a bit vain, and can be vindictive. According to associates he never forgave Oppie.

Strauss insists that his name be pronounced as in "straws;" and though most of his life was spent on Wall Street as a partner of Kuhn Loeb and Co., he emphasizes the point that he is a Virginian and maintains a 2,000-acre estate there.

A former secretary to Herbert Hoover, Strauss was one of the few reserve officers to be promoted to the rank of admiral during the war. In 1946 he was appointed by President Truman to the Atomic Energy Commission.

OPPIE REFUSES TO QUIT

Strauss resigned in 1950 after the abortive Hickenlooper probe, but was re-appointed last year by Eisenhower as chairman. Among the first things he did was start a probe of the man who had disagreed with him on isotopes, and appoint David "Fatty" Teeple, a glorified Washington gumshoe-man as his special assistant.

Teepie, a friend of McCarthy's assistant Don Surine, had served under Senator Hickenlooper when the congressional atomic committee was probing the AEC, but was demoted by the late Sen. Brian McMahon. No friend of Oppenheimer, Teeple has been considered a link between McCarthy and the AEC.

Meanwhile, Strauss's probe of Oppenheimer, which began last summer, had dug up no new facts; so on December 21 the admiral asked Oppenheimer to come see him.

In the room with Strauss when Oppenheimer arrived was Maj. Gen. Kenneth D. Nichols, AEC general manager.

"Someone," said Strauss, "has revived these old charges against you."

Strauss did not reveal that he himself had withdrawn secret papers from Oppenheimer five days after he assumed office in July. But he did urge Oppenheimer to resign as an AEC consultant. In fact, most of their meeting was spent trying to persuade Oppenheimer to resign. Strauss wanted him to go quietly, though he warned that the alternative was suspension.

Two days later, December 23, Oppenheimer went back to see the admiral, handed him a letter stating that he couldn't possibly resign in the face of the absurd charges made against him, and that he intended to fight the whole thing out. The admiral in reply handed Oppenheimer the letter of suspension signed by General Nichols recently made public.

IKE CONSULTED

Two weeks later Oppenheimer wrote the AEC asking for formal hearings. It was at this point that Strauss became uneasy. Though he had taken the precaution of disengaging the matter with Eisenhower, and had sold Ike on the idea of a security review, he was fearful of the public reaction in case of a leak.

SEVERAL KINDS of warts are known but all are believed to be caused by infection with one or more viruses. They are more or less contagious and people frequently transfer a wart from one part of the body to another by rubbing or scratching.

There is no truth, however, to the belief that handling a toad will produce warts.

In spite of the fact that warts are infections, they can be successfully treated in several different ways. Local treatment by freezing or diathermy is often effective. Injections of various substances have also been used.

EVEN MENTAL treatment seems to have been useful in curing warts, although why this should be true is still something of a mystery.

In particularly difficult cases, treatment with X-rays and even removal by operation has been undertaken.

Free Asia NATO Seems To Be Impossible At This Time

By FRED SPARKS

By NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Is there a chance of organizing the free nations of Asia into military bloc similar to NATO in Europe?

Even though most of them are now being armed with weapons "Made in U.S.A." the answer is: "It looks impossible at this time."

Why? Travel by plane, ship, jeep and oxcart along the skirts of Red China from Pakistan to Korea. Speak to barefoot soldiers, generals and diplomats—white, black, yellow and brown. These are the questions and answers you'd get:

Q. What is the main obstacle to an Asian NATO? After all, they have a common enemy, Dictator Mao and his Russian supplied Chinese Army.

A. While our friends have the common enemy—and a common friend, the U.S.—there are more blood feuds among them than a parcel of Hatfields and McCoys.

For example: Behind the spanking new front of neon-lighted Manila is still the awful wreckage of World War II. And a brooding fear of a re-armed Japan still clouds conversation.

You'll note how difficult it is to get the French, so recently occupied by the Nazis, to agree to a new Reich army. The Philippines were occupied by Japan and too often Hirohito's brass-knuckled generals made Hitler's rough stuff in Paris look like a pillow fight.

It would be just as silly to defend the Orient without Japan as it is to defend Europe against the Nazis, to agree to a new Reich army. The Philippines were occupied by the Nazis, to agree to a new Reich army. The Philippines were occupied by the Nazis, to agree to a new Reich army. The Philippines were occupied by the Nazis, to agree to a new Reich army.

That's the comparison—with Red China substituted for Canada.

Remember the tragedy of the war, when Belgium and Holland were allergic to staff talks with London? When the panzers jumped them they hollered "Help!" and British Tommies dispatched to the rescue often didn't know the highway markers.

Surely it's more costly for us to keep military missions in each country than it would be if we had an Asian GHQ working with general representing each friend.

Q. Who would be the best titular leader?

A. The only possible candidate now is young Ramon Magsaysay, who like all good candidates refuses to run.

Q. Isn't he relatively unknown?

A. That's the point. He's not

THE WISE OLD MEN OF ASIA: Asia's tomorrow, they fear, is still being decided by today's domestic politics in Europe.

da? And each state, supplied by an overseas friend, insisted on keeping its own defense secrets? That's the comparison—with Red China substituted for Canada.

Remember the tragedy of the war, when Belgium and Holland were allergic to staff talks with London? When the panzers jumped them they hollered "Help!" and British Tommies dispatched to the rescue often didn't know the highway markers.

Surely it's more costly for us to keep military missions in each country than it would be if we had an Asian GHQ working with general representing each friend.

The military chief would be American, someone like General Van Fleet who knows the Chinese enemy—and also knows that you don't run a tank across a rice paddies.

Manila is an excellent GHQ, not only for its jumping night life, but for its broad airstrips and placid harbors and central location, which could be home for the Orient's fleet and bombers.

Stuck sufficiently far from the Chinese mainland, it is as safe as anything can be this radio-active period, while cities like Hong Kong, Siam or Seoul can be reached by Red Chinese troops who can outmatch camels.

HIGH COST OF TEXAS—An outfit in Texas, apparently dedicated to making sugar and raising nuts, sent me a letter the other day offering me the opportunity to purchase a two-inch (that's right, two-inch) chunk of the Texas landscape for 75 cents.

The land is now owned by a gentleman named BenJack Cage, described as a "wealthy Texas industrialist." Cage got to thinking (it says here) about the unfortunates in the United States who want to own a bit of Texas and are unable to do so.

"Everyone knows the high value of Texas land," says Cage. "And the anxiety of many Texans and non-Texans to be land owners in the Lone Star state."

So a little dream of benefit to everybody was thought up in which one acre of that valuable Texas land is to be split into 3-136,320 two-inch square plots and sold for a total of $2,352,240.

Chicago Knifer Kills Godchild

CHICAGO (AP) — A bartender arrested Friday night in a loop tavern, cocked pistol in hand and threatening another bartender, confessed Sunday night, police said, to "murdering my godchild."

Directed by John Coasta, 64, in his room in the Burton Hotel, 1429 N. Clark St. on the near North Side, police found the slashed and nearly decapitated body of Mrs. Helen Rodopoulos, 37. Beside the bed on which the body lay was a bloody six-inch hunting knife.

Sgt. Harold Pierson said Coasta as explained his act was a "mercy killing" and said the victim "was on the junk."

Her husband, Michael, 49, told police his wife was under psychiatric treatment and was taking prescribed sedative pills. He said he last saw his wife alive Friday morning when he left for work. He told Lt. Patrick Deely he knew she visited Coasta, who he said was his wife's godfather. Rodopoulos said he was unable to reach her by telephone and was refused permission by the hotel clerk to visit Coasta's room.

Hay Fever Fund Out To Fill Its Coffers

By WARD CANNELL

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Dig down, brother. There's a brand-new fund-raising drive on the horizon. And guess who's going to be called on to fill the coffers? Us allergists!

It's called the National Hay Fever Fund; it's sponsored by the Hay Fever Prevention Society; and for eight million summertime sneezers, wheezers, coughers and itchers, it may pay the way to relief.

At the same time, the society says, it will cut industrial and agricultural waste by cutting the lost man-hours during what hay fever sufferers knowingly call "the season."

For the uninitiated, hay fever is easy to explain. It is a philosophy and a way of life built on the microscopic pollen of the ragweed plant. And during the weeks of mid-August into frost time, when the ragweed pollinates, the hay feverite expresses his true feelings with the clarion cry: "I'm miserably unhappy."

But for thousands of sufferers, the joke is short-lived. Unallergiated hay fever can produce asthma — a respiratory ailment that chokes its victims to death.

Clinically, hay fever is an allergy: the body reacting to a foreign substance with uncomfortable symptoms. A recent survey

Congress Needs More Facts On Indochina, Senator Morse Says

MUSKEGON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore) has called for a "secret session" of Congress to obtain facts if the Indochina war grows worse.

He told a Muskegon County CIO-

PAC dinner Saturday night that "The President should call the full Congress into secret session, if necessary, to give all the facts to the representatives of the people."

Morse said Congress was as "uniformed" on Indochina as the people.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon in addressing the American Society of Newspaper Editors last Friday suggested the possibility of sending American troops to Indochina. The senator said loyal Americans will "support the flag when it marches to defend this nation but they are entitled to know all the facts which would support the statement of the vice president."

Governor Signs Seven New Laws

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today signed seven legislative acts into law, including one permitting Korean War veterans to be members of the state and county boards of trustees of the veterans trust fund.

The bills:

Permit taxpayers to have personal property assessed on the tax date, Jan. 1, or on an average monthly inventory of the previous 12 calendar months, instead of the prior fiscal year.

Remove the requirement that real estate acquired by municipalities for slum clearance must be sold at public auction.

Allow the redetermination of inland lake levels in the same way as the original determination was made.

Allow the state aeronautics department to lease land at the Lansing Airport for 50 years, instead of the present 20.

Authorize village councils to contract for repair and extension of municipally-owned lighting works out of revenues.

Impose a 10-cents-an-acre annual tax on state military land in Crawford, Kalkaska and Otsego Counties.

Briefly Told

Condition Improved — Vernon Dahl, 31, of Bark River, who was injured Saturday night in an auto accident at Memory Lane, is reported today to be in an improved condition at St. Francis Hospital.

Petrochemicals Run Into Growing Pains

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the nation's leading growth industries is suffering a little from growing pains.

Petrochemicals—the family of products once looked upon as mere by-products of oil refining—has shot up since the war to produce such widely accepted products as synthetic fibers for clothing, detergents for cleansing, synthetic rubber for tires, a host of plastics, fertilizers and ingredients used in medicine and food processing.

But they say they aren't worrying.

Expansion Continues

"Capacity slightly above demand is normal in American business—or was before the abnormal postwar boom years," says an official of the Oronite Chemical Co., subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of California.

About half of Oronite's business is supplying the cleansing industry with key materials used in making household and industrial detergents, a demand that continues to expand, company spokesmen said.

It also produces one of the basic chemicals used in the manufacture of the polyester fiber marketed by Du Pont under the trade name Dacron. Oronite is now completing a phenol plant in the San Francisco Bay area to produce products used in the plastic, plywood, paint, petroleum refining, and lubricating oil additive industries.

So steady has been the growth of its petrochemical business that Oronite is planning further expansion with an isophthalic plant to make products for the surface coating and plastic industries.

The petrochemical industry has made great strides along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. It has been a prime factor in the postwar industrialization of the area. Nearby Texas and Louisiana oil has been the lodestone.

Phillips petroleum has expanded its chemical subsidiary greatly in Oklahoma and Texas, producing fertilizers and chemicals for use in synthetic fibers, plastic and jet and rocket fuels, among other products. Lion Oil is stressing expansion of its petrochemical production for fertilizers.

Roosevelt Will Sue For Divorce

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — James Roosevelt, whose marital affairs have become involved in his candidacy for Congress, has offered his wife a property settlement and plans to sue for divorce.

The eldest son of the late President filed notice in Superior Court Monday that he will petition on April 30 for leave to amend his divorce suit to ask for a divorce instead.

The document quoted a letter between attorneys for the Roosevelts indicating that his wife Romelle also will ask for a divorce on grounds of cruelty, the same as in her husband's projected suit.

The letter from Roosevelt's attorney to Mrs. Roosevelt's counsel said it was understood that Mrs. Roosevelt would seek the divorce on grounds of unspecified cruelty, indicating that the estranged wife would drop allegations of adultery which Roosevelt has denied.

detention of a Soviet official, to wit: Mrs. Petrov."

Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies called an urgent Cabinet meeting to discuss the possibility the Russians might retaliate against the small Australian Embassy staff in Moscow.

Australians Implicated

It was revealed at Canberra that Mrs. Petrov was a cipher clerk in the Soviet Embassy, handling the secret coded messages to and from the Kremlin. If she decides to follow her husband in revealing what she knows about the inner workings of that embassy, she may be as important as he is in helping to track down Soviet espionage in Australia.

A royal commission with increased legal powers already has been authorized to sift the mass of documents Petrov turned over. Menzies said that data revealed a large Soviet spy network in this country. Other sources said at least 30 Australians were implicated.

The Russians at Darwin claimed the action against the couriers violated their diplomatic immunity. But legal experts pointed out Australian air travel laws forbid passengers to carry firearms aboard a plane. They said although a country cannot take punitive action against diplomats of another country, it can take measures to prevent law violations.

It would ban the wearing by any person over 12 years of age in streets, parks or other public places of shorts, halters, swim suits or any apparel which fails to cover the body from shoulders to a point midway between hips and knees—sunbacks excepted.

Violators would get up to $150 fines and 30 days.

Sending Of U. S. Army Troops To Indochina Hot Issue

Reds—a proposal which the French previously have received without enthusiasm.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee told the Senate Monday he had been told there was "no change" in the policy against employing U. S. combat units in Indochina. He said he had been so told by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Thurston B. Morton, assistant secretary of state.

Must Be Held

The troop-use question was brought to the fore by the statement of Vice President Nixon last Friday that American troops might have to be used as a last resort if the French should withdraw—a possibility he termed unlikely.

The Piping radio today accused Nixon of "sabre rattling" and said the vice president "made it clear that the United States will do its utmost to oppose a cease-fire in Indochina."

Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told the Daughters of the American Revolution convention Monday night that "we have made our decision" to hold Indochina. He said it is time for U. S. allies to "stand up and be counted or run the risk of disastrous division of the free world."

He spoke of a belief of the Joint Chiefs of Staff that if Southeast Asia is overrun by the Communists the American island defense chain in the Pacific would be outflanked. In that event, Bridges said, it would be "unlikely that we could... even hold a line from Hawaii to the Aleutians."

He said Russia has developed large air bases in eastern Siberia and with U. S. Pacific defenses pierced she could bomb industrial centers of the Midwest as well as the West Coast.

"That, in strategic terms, is the clear and present danger" against which the President and the secretary of state have been warning us during these recent, anxious days," Bridges declared.

Get Second Wind

But industry leaders say it's merely a matter of getting their second wind; the industry is fundamentally healthy; and leading companies continue their expansion plans. They insist that neither product possibilities nor market potentials have begun to be exhausted yet.

Robert Anderson, Defense Boss, Called 'Talent Find' Of The Year

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Robert B. Anderson and Charles S. Thomas have discovered the secret of success with Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson:

Make like a hard-headed business, don't let the military brass push you around, and keep your name off the front page.

That's what promoted Anderson from Secretary of the Navy into the job of Deputy Secretary of Defense, succeeding Roger M. Kyes who resigned. And it moved Thomas into Anderson's job as Secretary of the Navy.

Anderson is said to be considered by Wilson as the "talent find" of the year. When Anderson joined Wilson's new Pentagon team a year ago he had two known assets. He was a Texas Democrat who had turned Republican for Ike. And he had experience as a manager of a giant ranch.

First action he took which pleased Wilson was effecting the controversial promotion to admiral of Hyman Rickover, creator of the atomic sub. There was already great pressure outside the Navy in Rickover's behalf, but Anderson came up with the gimmick to accomplish the promotion board to create an admiral with qualifications only Rickover possessed.

At the same time Anderson plunged enthusiastically into several reforms of Navy management which were already under way. But he put new life into them and kept pounding at the brass to streamline their work, making Wilson sit up and take notice.

The reforms include such things as putting Navy yards on a corporation-like basis and speeding up the Navy's $15 billion inventory of parts, components and supplies.

Anderson's action in the Navy which made a special hit with the White House was pushing the end of segregation. There's still some distance to go in the Navy before total non-segregation is achieved but it was Anderson's regulations which ended it officially.

Although Anderson's reluctance to hold press conferences and his inability to inspire splash news stories have kept his name from becoming a household word in the U.S., he has also kept out of such rhubarbs as the one involving Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens and Sen. McCarthy. Nor has Secretary Anderson caused anything like the uproar over Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbot's remarks on the storing of atomic bombs in Spain.

Wilson likes to have the help stay out of the headlines.

Thomas, who moves into Anderson's spot from an assistant defense secretaryship in charge of logistics and supply, is not one to irk his boss in this respect. He's noted as a real bad dog on every period, comma and phrase in any report on him which is likely to get to the press.

Although Thomas is best known in the Pentagon for caution and ultra-conservatism, he has a lengthy service record in the Navy as both an officer and civilian which qualifies him well for his new post.

During World War I he was in the aviation branch of the naval reserve. During World War II he served as an official in the Bureau of Aeronautics, working on procurement. In this capacity he distinguished himself by instituting the "incentive contract." It's a device which rewards contractors making items more economically.

In one instance with his incentive contract he brought the cost of horizon indicating instruments in planes down from $300 each to $65. He brought that kind of business acumen to the job he has been holding. It's the kind of thing Wilson likes.

Between wars Thomas got into the clothing business in Califor-

Price Too High?

Cuts In Federal Service Stir Fights Over 'Cost'

(By Congressional Quarterly)
WASHINGTON—Even economy has a price tag. At least that's the opinion of some government officials, Congressmen and special interest groups contacted by CQ in a round-up of federal activities affected by economy measures in fiscal 1954 and 1955.

The price of government economy, they say, is less education and less health and economic protection for the American people.

Some other federal officials and Congressmen, however, believe that government economies have merely eliminated unnecessary services. A Department of Agriculture information officer told CQ: "We've trimmed the fringe activities, eliminated the duplication and have kicked the government out of areas where it didn't belong—thereby increasing our ability to perform 'legitimate' government services more efficiently."

Want More, Not Less

The Agriculture Department's Rural Electrification Administration, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Public Health Service and the Department of Labor have sustained perhaps the most criticized "trimming."

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, said in his 1953 "Report to the CIO" that "the Labor Department . . . always the smallest of government departments, is now truly a skeleton in the Eisenhower Administration closet."

The official monthly magazine of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association said in its February issue that the "prices of government economy" to REA borrowers "are less technical assistance, smaller loan program and some new management responsibilities."

Today Thomas shows good evidence of his background by being one of the nastiest dressers in the Pentagon. He buys big bolts of material through his former firm and has them tailored into well-fitting suits.

Friends of his jokingly claim that one of the reasons President Eisenhower approved of him for the new job is because he shoots golf in the middle 70's. The game is his major hobby. He doesn't smoke and drinks moderately.

He's a sociable but quiet man who prides himself on never losing his temper. He is married and has four grown children.

Greatest Development in Brewing Since Repeal!

NOW GOEBEL IS

FROST-FINISHED FOR FINER FLAVOR

FROST-FINISHED
for Finer Flavor

Perfected in Goebel's great research laboratories

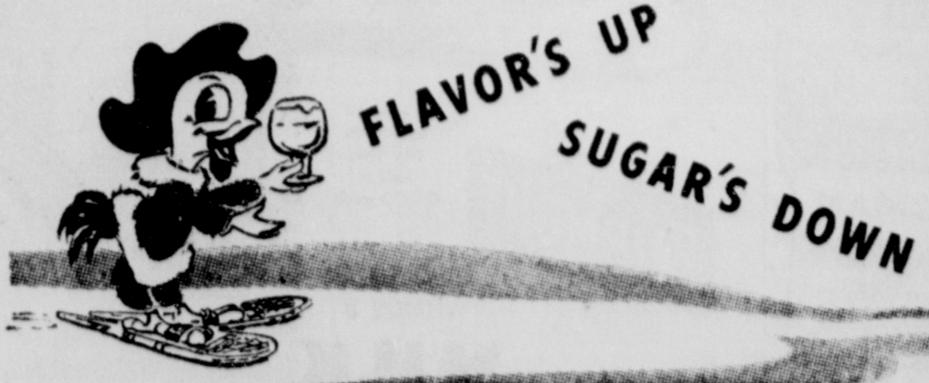

For more than 20 years brewers have been striving to brew a light, dry beer that's low in sugar and starch, yet still retains its fine, full flavor. Now this has been accomplished by Goebel's great new Frost-Finishing process!

This important contribution to brewing, the result of years of research by Goebel scientists, reduces sugar and starch content to a minimum while, at the same time, it actually improves the flavor.

Frost-Finishing is two additional brewing steps. Twice, before it is bottled, the temperature of the beer is suddenly plunged to points close to freezing. This sudden reduction in temperature removes excess sugars and starches, and allows the beer to reach its true flavor peak.

Try a glass of today's Goebel, soon you get finer "frosty dry" flavor because it's Frost-Finished.

Friends Drift Away

During the years when Herbert Philbrick was attending Communist meetings at night, coming home to write his FBI reports and then going on to his advertising job, one of the most difficult things to face was the attitude of their friends, says his wife.

"Most of them just drifted away," she says. "We couldn't explain things to them, and we understood how they felt about us. Even our families were curious about Herb's activities, and the literature they saw around the house. But they stuck by us."

Expert Army Toils for Baby
To Bring Him Ideal Foods

"OH, BOY, that tickles!" And baby will be just as tickled with the diet-and-food suggestions Doctor has for Mommy.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

How long since baby's last checkup? How well is he eating and sleeping? These are timely questions, as Child Health Day, May 1, is just ahead.

May 1 also marks the start of National Baby Week, which has come to be the accepted time to take inventory of the nation's most important "crop."

Minor troubles often can be checked in the early stages when the doctor has a chance to see baby. Also, regular visits provide an opportunity to divert Mother from daily errors of routine that might quickly become habits.

Doctors, nurses, nutritionists, researchers, agriculturists — all are working to improve baby's diet.

The story of baby's advance on the road to right eating shows less infant mortality, less infant disease, better growth, bigger smiles and appetites.

These are good days for mothers, thanks to the variety of foods that are available, scientifically strained or chopped, and packed especially for the Bib Brigade.

The whole family will enjoy a molded gelatin salad or dessert made with those special baby fruits. Try this new recipe:

Raspberry-Peach Dessert (Serves 5)

One package raspberry-flavored gelatin, 1 cup hot water, 1 cup cold water, 1/2 cup strained peaches (baby pack).

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in strained fruit, mixing well. Pour into serving bowl or individual serving dishes. Chill.

For toddlers, serve plain. For adults, serve with tangy fruit dressing or French dressing, as salad. May be served with whipped cream or custard sauce as dessert.

Note: Try basic recipe with other flavors of gelatin, other strained or junior fruits. To mold, pour mixture into individual molds. Chill overnight.

YOUNGER LOOKING

Polished leathers, grained leathers and reptiles offer a wide choice in the new young-looking shoe designs. Browns and cordovans the favorites with some black and navy blue. If you wear suede or leather, try to find a style that suits your feet.

Have Guided Missiles Outdated VTO Planes Before They Fly?

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
By NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The two experimental vertical take-off planes which have been built to zoom straight up and land straight down, tail first, have launched a high-level debate in the Pentagon over what practical military value they will ever serve.

Although this radical type of aircraft has been the dream of designers since the days of Leonardo da Vinci, there are experts who contend it is already obsolete because of guided missile and other aircraft developments.

The planes which are causing the debate are the XFR-1, built by Consolidated Vultee, and the XFV-1, built by Lockheed. Both resemble conventional high-speed fighters and both are powered by counter-rotating turbo-props, a combination of jet power in a turbine driving a conventional propeller.

The Air Force has other pure-jet models, still secret, designed for approximately the same purpose. But instead of going straight up they will require a drastically reduced take-off distance compared to the long runs needed by current jet fighters.

Air Force experts take a more conservative view of the future of vertical take-off planes than others. At best, they say, VTO planes might have limited uses for close support of ground troops and as interceptors.

It is also argued that the price in performance which you pay for achieving vertical take-off makes it impractical for bombers, cargo planes, night fighters, and long-range interceptors. As one expert explains:

"The cost of vertical take-off is a less streamlined fuselage, a very complicated cockpit construction, difficulty of piloting, more complicated instruments and extremely complex vertical control systems. What you gain is the elimination of a concrete runway. So for most Air Force missions the gain is not worth the price."

Even ardent proponents of the VTO planes don't see much future for them in private or commercial flying because of the cost of the tremendous power needed and the inherent difficulty in flying them.

The vertical take-off idea is just opposite from the goal of commercial plane designers, who seek maximum load carrying with minimum power.

Although helicopters fly straight up and down, they do it much slower and their forward speed is considerably limited. But this also makes helicopter flight much cheaper, although even it is only just beginning to pay off commercially in some passenger and mail services.

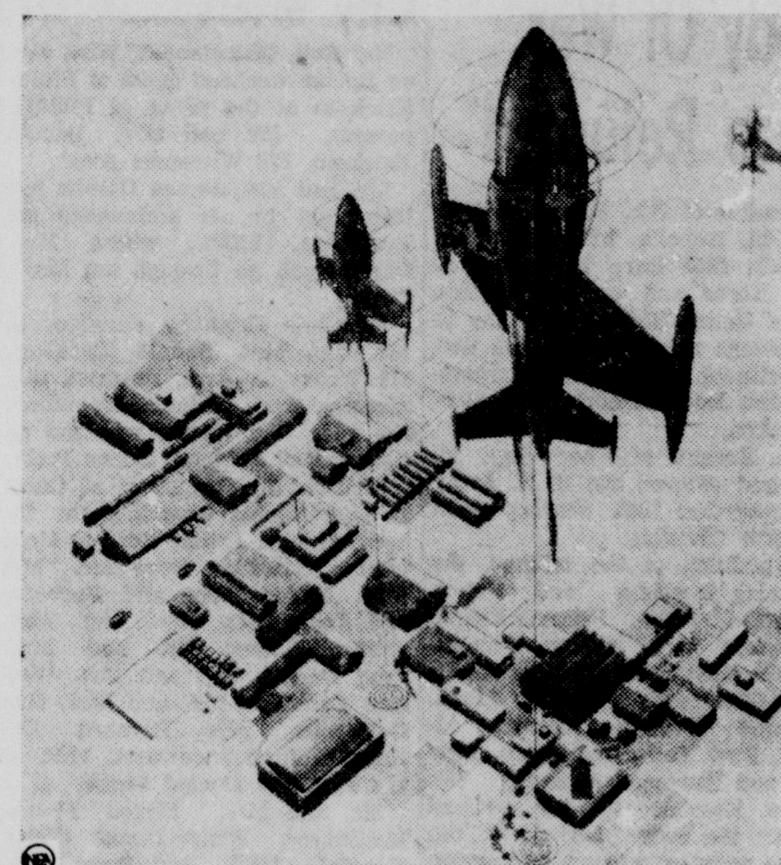

VTO plane enthusiasts point out it's the ideal type aircraft for close support of troops and the shooting down of enemy bombers striking the U. S. VTO planes could be assigned to small Army units and operate without runways, and they could be stationed all over the U. S. without the need for building big air fields.

In answer to the guided missile experts point out that the Army's "nike" battalions are being set up around the country already answer the need for localized air defense. The nuke is a very accurate, rocket-propelled anti-aircraft guided missile.

As for the use of VTO planes near the battlefield, an Air Force expert says:

"The concept may have a possibility here, but if such a plane is going to operate close behind a front you still have tremendous logistical problems of getting fuel and spare parts to it. And as you get into this problem the savings achieved by not having to lay down a fighter strip almost becomes a minor part of the whole effort."

The two VTO planes which exist are Navy projects, but even in that service there is debate over them. It is claimed that long before all of the bugs can be ironed out of the VTO models all the Navy's ships will have guided missiles capable of the same missions performed by VTO planes. Despite the arguments, however, all the experts concur that the accomplishment of vertical take-off is a startling development which could revolutionize some aspects of military aviation and also contribute greatly to the general advancement of the art of flying.

Grandpa President Joins Stunts With Little Eisenhowers

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—It was a happy Easter for all the Eisenhowers, from the President and the First Lady right on through to their youngest grandchild in her perky new bonnet.

The grandchildren—David, 6, Barbara Anne, 4, and Susan, 2—started the day at the Little White House with a rousing egg hunt which the President got up to fast on the draw as a real live cowboy, and the President got a hearty laugh out of it.

But President or not, he couldn't conceal a bit of caught-in-the-act uneasiness when David's mother, Mrs. John Eisenhower, showed up.

"Don't tell your mother," the President said in an aside to his grandson. "Cover up the gun."

Back it went fast—into David's belt, and the blue coat whisked over it. But mother saw it and said to the two of them in a tone of mild and smiling reproach:

"This is not much of a religious theme."

All of this took place on the lawn in the bright sun in front of the Little White House at the Augusta National Golf Club.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had just come from 9 a.m. worship at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church, and they were dressed in their Easter best.

Lions' Governor Coming Tonight

Manistique Lions will observe governor's night during its regular meeting in the Elks Temple here at 7 tonight.

Waldo McCrea, of Marquette, governor of Lions district No. 10, will be here for the meeting.

A "ladies' night" is planned in conjunction with the meeting. Dinner will be served and dancing and other entertainment will follow.

Revival Meetings Slated This Week

Revival meetings will begin tonight at the Free Methodist Church, it is announced by the Rev. Robert Sickmiller, pastor.

Evangelist for the first week of services will be the Rev. Fred Knecht of Gladstone.

Services will begin at 7:30 each evening and the public is invited.

County Board Gives Linderoth Unanimous Vote For Chairman

The 13-member Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors, at its organization meeting Monday morning, elected Vernon C. Linderoth, a Manistique city councilman, chairman for the ensuing year.

Linderoth, who succeeds Wells Bowers of Mueller Township, received a unanimous vote. The motion for his nomination, made by George Stephens and supported by Willard Garvin, both Manistique Councilmen, was the only one made for the chairmanship. This is the first time in many years that the board chairman has received a unanimous vote.

Brain Re-Named Head Of County Allocation Board

William Brain, of Germfask, was elected chairman of the Schoolcraft County Tax Allocation Board at an organization meeting held at 1 p. m., Monday in the courthouse here.

Brain, who has served on the allocation board for five years, also served as chairman last year.

Alfred W. Heitman was re-named chairman of the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors' finance committee Monday morning and will serve with the other five members of the board. They are Brain, Mrs. Ludwig Hough, county school superintendent; Miss Laura Williams, county treasurer; Earl LeBraseur, Manistique board of education; and William McEachern, of Inwood township.

The allocation board will meet again Monday, May 3, to set preliminary allocations and again between May 8 and May 13 for adoption of permanent allocations of the 15 mill general property tax.

The motion for Brain's appointment was made by Miss Williams and was supported by McEachern. The vote for his election was unanimous.

Congressional Quiz

(By Congressional Quarterly)

1. Q—How has President Eisenhower's legislative program been doing in Congress?

A—Five of the President's 214 recommendations to Congress this year had become law as of March 31, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey. A total of 169 others have met with lesser degrees of success. Of these, 60 have been approved by one branch of Congress, 36 have been reported favorably from committee, 54 have had committee hearings, and 19 have had implementing bills introduced. As of March 31, 1953, the then-new President had submitted only 19 proposals, obtained favorable action on two of them. Batting average based on final action: (March 31) 1954—.023; 1953—.105. By the end of the 1953 session, Mr. Eisenhower had received favorable action on 32 out of 44 proposals, for batting average of .727.

2. Q—Since the change in Administrations, have big lobby groups stepped up their spending?

A—There were 19 groups that reported spending more than $50,000 in 1953, compared with 24 groups topping $50,000 in 1952. In 1951, 23 groups reported spending more than $100,000. Top 1953 spender reporting to Congress was the National Association of Electric Companies, which reported spending $47,789.32 (they said they spent $47,941.74 in 1952). Second highest was the Association of American Railroads which reported spending $235,727.73—about $250 less than they spent in 1952 ($235,977.74). The Colorado River Association, 19th on the CQ list, reported spending of $50,595.81 in 1953. They said they spent $111,538.15 in 1952.

3. Q—Are members of Congress present and voting on most issues decided by rollcall votes?

A—Yes, they've been voting on nearly 9 of every 10 chances this year. The "average" Member voted either "yea" or "nay" on 89.8 per cent of all roll-calls taken from Jan. 6, 1954 through March 31, according to a Congressional Quarterly analysis. By announcing stands, "pairing" with other Members or answering CQ polls, the "average" Member added to his votes to bring his On-The-Record percentage (of times when he made his views known) to 93.2 per cent. There were 46 roll-call votes in the period, 32 in the Senate, 14 in the House.

4. Q—Can Congress smoke during House or Senate sessions?

A—Not when they are "on the floor." Members wishing to smoke must leave the chamber. There is also a rule against smoking in the visitors' galleries. Members, assistants and others usually smoke in their offices, committee rooms, in Capitol corridors or in the cloakrooms.

5. Q—Is a Member of Congress immune from prosecution if he perjures himself under oath?

A—No, because perjury is a felony. The Constitution (Article I, section 6) states that Members shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session." The same provision also states that "for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place." This is commonly known as "Congressional immunity."

6. Q—Can Members of Congress be impeached?

A—Probably not, although there is no clear precedent by which to judge. The only case in which impeachment proceedings were brought against a Member (Sen. William Blount of Tennessee, in 1798) resulted in a dismissal of the impeachment by the Senate after it had been voted by the House. Blount's counsel argued that the Senate had lost jurisdiction when it expelled him in 1797.

Any Member may be expelled by either House if two-thirds of those present and voting agree on expulsion. Also, any Member is subject to prosecution in court for treason, felony or breach of the peace.

7. Q—What's the U. S. doing to help the French defend Indo-China?

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Congress April 5 that the Chinese Communists, helping Indo-China rebels, are "coming awfully close" to the direct aggression the Administration has said would produce "massive retaliation." The U. S. has sent, and is now sending, supplies and materials to the French, and some American technicians are aiding in the training of French and native pilots and other specialists.

The U. S. has a mutual defense assistance treaty with France (as a member of NATO), and has other agreements with Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

8. Q—Is the Communist Party a legal political party?

A—Yes. But a House Judiciary subcommittee has been holding hearings on 13 measures that would outlaw the Party. There are five similar Senate bills but there have been no hearings in the upper chamber. Fourteen of the 18 measures were introduced in 1954. There are three House bills that would take away the citizenship of American Communists, and one proposal to create a commission to study outlawing the Party.

9. Q—Do Members of Congress pay federal income tax on their salaries?

A—Yes. Members get $15,000 a year, $2,500 of which is for expenses, the remainder in salary. Members are taxed on the total, except that up to the first $3,000 is deductible because of the expense of maintaining a second home in or near the District of Columbia.

10. Q—Can any Member ask that a vote be taken by roll-call instead of by voice?

A—Yes. But a vote is not taken by the "yeas" and "nays" unless one-fifth of those present desire it.

Congressional Quiz

(By Congressional Quarterly)

1. Q—How has President Eisenhower's legislative program been doing in Congress?

A—Five of the President's 214 recommendations to Congress this year had become law as of March 31, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey. A total of 169 others have met with lesser degrees of success. Of these, 60 have been approved by one branch of Congress, 36 have been reported favorably from committee, 54 have had committee hearings, and 19 have had implementing bills introduced. As of March 31, 1953, the then-new President had submitted only 19 proposals, obtained favorable action on two of them. Batting average based on final action: (March 31) 1954—.023, 1953—.105. By the end of the 1953 session, Mr. Eisenhower had received favorable action on 32 out of 44 proposals, for a batting average of .727.

2. Q—Since the change in Administrations, have big lobby groups stepped up their spending?

A—There were 19 groups that reported spending more than $50,000 in 1953, compared with 24 groups topping $50,000 in 1952. In 1951, 23 groups reported spending more than $100,000. Top 1953 spender reporting to Congress was the National Association of Electric Companies, which reported spending $547,789.32 (they said they spent $477,941.74 in 1952). Second highest was the Association of American Railroads which reported spending $235,727.73—about $250 less than they spent in 1952 ($235,977.74). The Colorado River Association, 19th on the CQ list, reported spending of $50,595.81 in 1953. They said they spent $11,538.15 in 1952.

3. Q—Are members of Congress present and voting on most issues decided by roll-call votes?

A—Yes. They've been voting on nearly 9 of every 10 chances this year. The "average" Member voted either "yea" or "nay" on 89.8 per cent of all roll-calls taken from Jan. 6, 1954 through March 31, according to a Congressional Quarterly analysis. By announcing stands, "pairing" with other Members or answering CQ polls, the "average" Member added to his votes to bring his On-The-Record percentage (of times when he made his views known) to 93.2 per cent. There were 46 roll-call votes in the period, 32 in the Senate, 14 in the House.

4. Q—Can Congressmen smoke during House or Senate sessions?

A—No when they are "on the floor." Members wishing to smoke must leave the chamber. There is also a rule against smoking in the visitors' galleries. Members, assistants and others usually smoke in their offices, committee rooms, in Capitol corridors or in the cloakrooms.

5. Q—Is a Member of Congress immune from prosecution if he perjures himself under oath?

A—No, because perjury is a felony. The Constitution (Article I, section 6) states that Members shall "in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session." The same provision also states that "for any speech or debate in either house, they shall not be questioned in any other place." This is commonly known as "Congressional immunity."

6. Q—Can Members of Congress be impeached?

A—Probably not, although there is no clear precedent by which to judge. The only case in which impeachment proceedings were brought against a Member (Sen. William Blount of Tennessee, in 1798) resulted in a dismissal of the impeachment by the Senate after it had been voted by the House. Blount's counsel argued that the Senate had lost jurisdiction when it expelled him in 1797. Any Member may be expelled by either House if two-thirds of those present and voting agree on expulsion. Also, any Member is subject to prosecution in court for treason, felony or breach of the peace.

7. Q—What's the U. S. doing to help the French defend Indo-China?

A—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Congress April 5 that the Chinese Communists, helping Indo-China rebels, are "coming awfully close" to the direct aggression the Administration has said would produce "massive retaliation." The U. S. has sent, and is now sending, supplies and materials to the French, and some American technicians are aiding in the training of French and native pilots and other specialists. The U. S. has a mutual defense assistance treaty with France (as a member of NATO), and has other agreements with Thailand, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

8. Q—Is the Communist Party a legal political party?

A—Yes. But a House Judiciary subcommittee has been holding hearings on 13 measures that would outlaw the Party. There are five similar Senate bills but there have been no hearings in the upper chamber. Fourteen of the 18 measures were introduced in 1954. There are three House bills that would take away the citizenship of American Communists and one proposal to create a commission to study outlawing the Party.

9. Q—Do Members of Congress pay federal income tax on their salaries?

A—Yes. Members get $15,000 a year, $2,500 of which is for expenses, the remainder in salary. Members are taxed on the total, except that up to the first $3,000 is deductible because of the expense of maintaining a second home in or near the District of Columbia.

10. Q—Can any Member ask that a vote be taken by roll-call instead of by voice?

A—Yes. But a vote is not taken by the "yeas" and "nays" unless one-fifth of those present desire it.

Movie Actors Help Capture Huk Leader

MANILA (AP)—Two Filipino movie stars recently negotiated the surrender of a communist Huk "commander" and 11 of his followers. Nida Blanca and Ted Belarmino met the "commander" by accident last December. Their car stalled on a lonely mountain road in dissident-infested country southeast of Manila.

The rebel leader, a man named Amat, said he wanted to give himself up but only to President Ramon Magsaysay. After a month of negotiations, which included several trips to the mountains, the film stars finally persuaded the dissident leader and his men to give themselves up.

COFFEE MILLIONS

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. (AP)—Spero Kounoukis is not satisfied with making three million but is working on his fourth million—cups of coffee, that is.

For the last 41 years, Kounoukis, a restaurant operator, has made about 10 gallons of coffee each day or about 200 cups. He has worn out 14 coffee urns.

Softball League Will Get Under Way May 17

Annual booster games, kicking off the 1954 American League softball schedule, were set for Sunday night, May 16, at the organization meeting of the Escanaba Softball Association last night.

Regular league play in the eight-team circuit will begin Monday night, April 17. The booster games will match the four top teams in the final standings last season.

That means the championship Harnischfeger team will play runner-up Merchants in the 8:30 finale and third-place Paper Mill will meet fourth-place Bungalow in the opener at 7. Opening night ceremonies will precede the games.

The Escanaba Association had an optimistic report on its bid for the state Class B championship tournament from Paul Vardigan, Escanaba district softball commissioner.

Has Good Chance

Vardigan reported that Herb Kipke, state commissioner, indi-

Baseball Meeting Is Slated For Tonight

A baseball meeting will be held at 8 tonight at the Sherman Hotel in an effort to determine if there is sufficient interest to organize a city team this season.

All persons interested in baseball are invited to attend the meeting. Escanaba was not represented in senior baseball circles last season.

Also meeting tonight are managers and officials of the Tri County League. The meeting will be held at Rodman's Bar in Hermansville.

New Golf Pro Arrives Here

With Professional Jim McNicoll and Greenskeeper Bud Carroll on hand and making preliminary preparations, the Escanaba Gold and Country Club is rounding into shape for what promises to be a busy season.

McNicoll, former assistant professional at Duluth Northland and Ridgeview Country Clubs, arrived on the scene Monday night and wasted no time today opening up the pro shop and beginning to get things in order.

Winter shutters have been removed from the clubhouse, leaves raked, and tomorrow work on the course itself will get underway. With the new pro on hand and the weatherman smiling, an early opening is contemplated.

Many golfers have already played a round or two. Some were out two weekends ago and last Sunday about a dozen braved a 30-mile wind to get in one round. Highland Golf Club had a good play over the weekend. A Highland work bee has already been completed and plans are underway for a busy season.

Okay Junior Program

The Association made plans to sponsor a junior softball program in Escanaba for boys from 14 to 18 years of age. A preliminary survey made yesterday indicated that most interest comes from that age group. If enough boys of younger age groups show interest in joining the program they will be provided with playing facilities too.

It was voted to leave the home-run fence at Memorial Field at 250 feet and a new method of electing Association officers was approved. Officers will be elected prior to the annual banquet and installed at the banquet.

The softball workbee will be held Saturday afternoon at Memorial Field and the Association will meet again on May 3 at 7:30 at Club 314.

QUESTION: A runner on first base starts to steal. The catcher's throw is high and the second baseman throws his glove and strikes the ball. What happens?

ANSWER: The runner is automatically entitled to third base.

Q. When backing up a base, particularly when the pitcher does so, how close should he be to the bag?

A. Between 35 and 40 feet away from the bag. Back-up plays usually come on a throw from the outfield and if the ball does get away it skips quickly. The more room you have to field it, the better off you are.

Q. What is the best way to pitch to a "bucket" hitter?

A. It is best to pitch this type of batter outside, because he is usually striding away from the plate.

Bevo And Coach Eye Pro Cage Ranks; Saperstein Interested

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP) — If Bevo Francis and Newt Oliver ever get together on just what they're fishing for, high-scoring star Bevo may be professional basketball's next big attraction.

The Harlem Globetrotters' impresario, Abe Saperstein, has been approached by Oliver, the headline-conscious little guy who coached Bevo and Rio Grande College into national prominence. Object: That good old Yankee dollar.

Saperstein Is Interested

Saperstein says he's interested. Bevo, 6 feet, 9 inches, 20-year-old sophomore, was expelled from college last week. The school's committee on instruction said Bevo had a fishing trip planned.

Oliver Resigns

Oliver officially resigned Monday night as Rio Grande's coach and athletic director, saying, "I can't take it any more down here."

Margolis said Oliver told the Globetrotters organization he and his star are considering several professional basketball contracts. Oliver hinted that Bevo might be the hub around which a National Basketball Association team might revolve.

The Globetrotters presumably would use Bevo on an all-star team opposing Saperstein's touring Negro pros, or perhaps between halves of these barnstorming games for an exhibition of shooting.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Phil Rizzuto, the veteran shortstop of the Yankees, does not appear to be getting the jump on the ball that he did in other years. Manager Casey Stengel is said to be doing a spot of worrying.

Casey's rivals have been waiting to hear for several years now that little Phil has begun to feel his 35 summers and has slowed up a step. In their opinion, Rizzuto has been the key man in the Yankees' string of championships, and they are convinced he is the one player the club cannot replace from its farm system.

Neither is Gerry Coleman making Stengel happy by his play at second base. The feeling is that the Korean veteran put in far too much time in preliminary baseball camps all through February and was tired before he even reported to Stengel at St. Petersburg. He is of the slight, nervous type and needs to conserve his energy. Looks as though the champs might be in for a long summer.

The Cincinnati Redlegs, on the other hand, started out to do exactly what their new manager, Birdie Tebbets said they would — wear out a lot of National League pitchers. If Jim Greenglass, Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell continue to terrify opposing throwers as they did in the open gweak, they're not going to be welcome anywhere.

It's too early to say that Tebbets has put together a pitching staff that will stand up.

"We're to climb over somebody," Birdie said when he opened his training camp. "I'll guarantee we won't finish sixth again."

BOSTON (AP) — Finnish marathoner Veikko Karvonen relaxed happily today after squaring accounts with Britain's Jimmy Peters.

The 27-year-old mail clerk defeated Peters, holder of the unofficial world record for a 26 miles, 385 yards grind, by 800 yards Monday while winning the 58th Boston A.A. Marathon.

Last October Karvonen finished second to the 35-year-old London optician's assistant as Peters set his world mark of 2:18:34.5 right in the Finn's hometown of Turku.

That time Karvonen trailed Peters by more than a mile.

Karvonen's winning time Monday was 2:20:39.

Boss Of Smokers' Supply Firm Makes Concern Click At 21

By JAMES FLOWERS
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Picture yourself in a panelled office directing the far-flung activities of a million-dollar corporation—at the age of 21.

It was no pipe dream for Leonard R. Rogers. When his father died four years ago he was literally snatched from the campus of Syracuse University to head up the world's largest exclusive manufacturer and importer of smokers' accessories.

Fledgling president Rogers faced three problems—youth, inexperience and being an only child. Other heirs in similar situations have wrecked going concerns.

But Rogers, with only stockroom experience during the summer vacations, made good. He took active command of the company, founded 50 years ago by his grandfather, and reorganized it.

"At first I listened to the advice of the older members of the firm, and it helped a lot," says Rogers. "But then I discovered that some of the executives didn't know what was going on outside their own departments. I can tell you we changed that."

In the shakeup the heads of two vice-presidents rolled, and promotions were made from within the organization. Too many chiefs and not enough Indians is the way Rogers described it.

The moves paid off. In three years young Rogers boosted his company's sales volume 14 per cent to $1,500,000 a year. Last year he showed a 40 per cent increase in profits and now talks about a new factory and a $6,000,000 volume "in a few years."

Today, at 25, Rogers is a seasoned executive. He knows firsthand the problem of obtaining a variety of products and materials from many countries: Peccary pipskin from Brazil; doe skin from New Zealand; pipes from Ireland; tobacco from Scotland; alligator hides from South Africa; pipe lighters from England and seal pelts from Alaska.

Rogers figures he has a potential customer in every one of the 59,375,000 smokers in the United States. For instance, his firm does an estimated 75 per cent of the nation's business in tobacco pouches. And in the past three years his cigarette case sales have increased 150 per cent.

Just as with household goods and men's haberdashery, women buy a large proportion of pipes. The tobacco industry estimates the fair sex account for 70 per cent of all pipe sales.

"To help the girls make up their minds, we just give the pipes a romantic name or put them in attractive gift boxes," says Rogers. "Of course we have to appeal to the other 30 per cent, too. Some men, you know, are allowed to carry their own money and do some shopping. After all, they're the pipe smokers."

Rogers himself isn't faced with this problem. He's still single.

Des Moines Man, 27, Sentenced For Trying To Bribe Ballplayer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Florin Dipaglia, 27-year-old Des Moines businessman, was sentenced to an indeterminate term of up to 10 years in prison on a charge of attempting to bribe a Drake University basketball star.

Dipaglia's attorney immediately announced the case would be appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court. Dipaglia remained free on $4,000 appeal bond.

It was the first case of its kind under a law passed by the 1953 Iowa legislature to provide punishment for bribery in an athletic contest.

Dipaglia was convicted April 3 by a jury of offering Ben Bumby, former Drake basketball star, money to "shave points" on the Drake-Iowa State game last Dec. 22.

Bumby testified he refused the alleged Dec. 18 offer and promptly told police and his coach about it.

Dipaglia, a building supply firm executive, flatly denied offering Bumby money. He said he merely asked Bumby's opinion on the outcome of the game because he planned to place a bet with a friend.

Nasser Returns To Rule Egypt

By ROBERT HEWETT
CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser once more was Egypt's boss Monday, in title as well as in fact, and Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib was relegated to a figurehead presidency.

In the latest lightning shift in the turbulent Egyptian political picture, the young army officers of the ruling revolutionary council early Sunday switched the premiership and military governorship from Naguib to Nasser.

The 33-year-old Naguib, who recently lost out in his fight to re-establish parliamentary rule in Egypt, swore in a new Cabinet. The first formal session, lasting less than an hour, was held Sunday night under Nasser. He reportedly outlined generally policy. Naguib did not attend.

A decree by Naguib also relinquished to Nasser the military governorship set up by the martial law clamped on Egypt after the 1952 Cairo fire riots.

The 35-year-old lieutenant colonel first took over as government chief seven weeks ago when the revolutionary council deposed Naguib, charging him with dictatorial designs. That time segments of the army threatened revolt, and Naguib was hastily reinstated, first as president and a week later as premier and chairman of the revolutionary council also.

HENS KNOW LETTERS
SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Bliss U. Melson of nearby Rockawalkin thinks he had some educated hens. Periodically he finds eggs with initials on the shells. The latest alphabetical egg was laid by a White Rock and initialed with the letter "B."

Melson has found other eggs with "T," "N" and "O" on them.
